The great war brought to us, as to all men, privation and woe. It left a path of blasted hopes, of young manhood maimed or sacrificed in a glorious cause. But it was not without its compensations. It showed us that the old time zeal of this martial county could, on the occasion, again burn high. It evoked in us qualities to which we had long been strangers. Our people displayed a spirit of unselfish sacrifice, a self abnegation, a devoted, united and tireless activity for the common weal which surprised ourselves and earned the admiration of our neighbors. High traditions count for much whether in families or in bodies politic. The proud military record of fifteen centuries steeled the arm of a sensitive, high strung people, called upon to defend Verdun. And doubtless the Berks boys who fought in France in...
